Attn: Bourne Lane Condominiums Homeowners Association

Initial proposal for removal, mold creation and replacement casting of wooden W.W. Dodge carvings at Bourne Lane Condominiums in Biltmore Forest, NC.

-All eight panels and four columns will be removed from their current driveway entrance locations and transported to a storage location to be determined. Items will have initial cleaning and assessment performed.

Cost $250.00

-Creation of a single mold of one original column and a single mold of one original panel.

Labor and materials - $975.00

-Creation of eight castings from original panel mold and four castings of original column mold.

Delivered to Bourne Lane Condominiums ready for installation and finishing as yet to be determined. Castings are proposed to be made from a hard resin outer shell with foam backing creating a strong, lightweight paintable surface that can be installed in original location with some minor modification to existing supports.

Four columns cast in this material - Labor and materials $1400.00

Eight panels cast in this material - Labor and materials $1600.00

Other materials with different properties could be used, likely at a cost savings.

Scheduling of project to be determined.
